INGOT

Ingot 1979

River Forest Jr.-Sr. High School

Indiana-Huber Blvd.
Hobart, Indiana

Dedication

The 1979 INGOT is dedicated to the Senior Class and in particular to Miss Violet Kosanovich. Words alone cannot do justice to her. They could never adequately express the kindness, the wit, and wisdom of this lady.

Miss Kosanovich had a deep sensitivity to the needs and aspirations of young people. Her countless hours of service, devotion, and dedication have enriched more people in her 22 years of teaching in the Hobart Township Corporation than can be imagined.

Miss Kosanovich began her career teaching in Evans Elementary School. She then moved to secondary education in the junior high and later to the high school, where she spent the last eight years of her career. Over the years, she developed a philosophy that became very evident in her teaching. She didn't believe in teaching facts. She believed in teaching human beings. Miss Kosanovich knew that education couldn't be poured into students. The students must work for it. They must actively seek and struggle for knowledge and wisdom. She always set high standards for her students. She knew that education could not be handed to another person. She believed in the ability of her students and through her belief, they came to believe in themselves.

She demanded a lot, but she always gave more. River Forest has a void with the death of Miss Kosanovich. It is a void that cannot easily be closed. Her position has since been filled, but many years will pass before River Forest no longer feels her absence.

RIVER

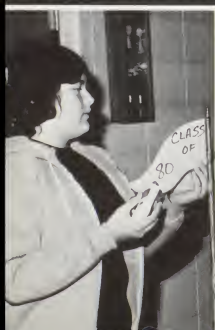

FOREST

The intent of the 1979 INGOT is to picture as many students as possible. From these opening pages through each division of the book, we have attempted to design the layout in such a manner as to allow the greatest number of candids per page as is possible. Each division opens with a collage of pictures that represent the entire Junior-Senior High School.

You will find that the Seniors do dominate the book, but this is how it should be. All the other grades, 7-11, have, to the best of our ability, been equally represented.

IS WHAT WE IS

RF Expands

The 1978-1979 school year is the first full year that River Forest has had the use of the new Industrial Arts (cafeteria) addition. Completed last year, the new wing was officially dedicated in November of 1978. The cafeteria, affectionally called the "Ingot Room", is the haven of the student body not only at lunch, but before school, too. Even though vandalized during the year, it remained the gathering place of many of the students who came to eat breakfast, talk to their friends, or finish up homework.

Even with a drop in the total enrollment of River Forest, enrollment has increased considerably in the Industrial Arts department since the new addition has been completed. Last year, by act of the School Board, River Forest High School with enrollment of over 700 and River Forest Junior High with enrollment of over 300 students were combined to form River Forest Junior-Senior High School with an enrollment of nearly 1,100 students.

Principals

Last year, the school board announced that Mr. Robert Marszalek would be principal over the entire student body of River Forest Jr-Sr High School. Mr. Donald Tippettt would remain assistant principal for grades 9-12 and Mr. John Newton would be assistant principal for grades 7 and 8.

Guidance

The Guidance Department is run by three very talented people. Mrs. Fay Iorio manages the Junior High while Mrs. Sandra Hurey and Dr. Robert Wright handle the High School. Together, they make sure that each student not only takes all of his required classes, but also classes that will be most beneficial to him in the future. Class schedules are done by computer, but our councilors still go over them with each student to ensure them the best academic year possible.

What is big, has 1,100 people in it under the age of 20, and is run and operated by 72 adults? Give up?? It is, in actuality, good ol' RF, it's students, and faculty members. The teachers are dedicated to the task of educating their students and preparing them for the life ahead. The instructors at River Forest are totally involved in the educational process. What is happening today, tomorrow, here, or there is also a part of their lessons. That way, the curriculum is broader and the work more interesting. On behalf of all the RF students, we'd like to award our teachers the ...

WASSAIL

The Wassail, a medieval Christmas dinner, was put on by the choir and Mr. Brown in the Jr. High Multi-Purpose room as a reenactment of medieval Christmas traditions.

The evening began with the annual parade of banners from Vienna, followed by the carrying in of the boar's head and the bringing in of the Yule log. St. Lucia, a Christian martyr who was burned at the stake for giving away her dowry, was then honored and afterwards the Wassail Bowl was lit.

The evening's meal was composed of five courses which included everything from salad and shrimp cocktail to a main course of Cornish Hen. South American Pineapple was served for dessert. The dinner was concluded with the traditional drink from the Wassail Punch Bowl.

Benny Knox decorates the Christmas trees with tiny animal ornaments to be given out at the Wassail.

Larry Parker plays a selection for the Wassail on the harpsicord.

David Knox and Ron Stangebye carry in the boar's head while Mike Myers looks on.

Terry Hill, Denise Bookhamer, Paul Bull, and Betsy Warwick get ready to sing one of the many carols performed that night.

Mr. Brown directs the participants of the Wassail in a song.

Jazz Fest III was held on April 18, 1979. The "A" and "B" jazz bands performed as well as jazz bands from Chesterton, Kankakee Valley, and Lew Wallace High Schools. Awards were given for outstanding soloists on each instrument. Ron Stangebye was chosen outstanding Trumpet Soloist.

INGOTS DUNK 'EM ALL!

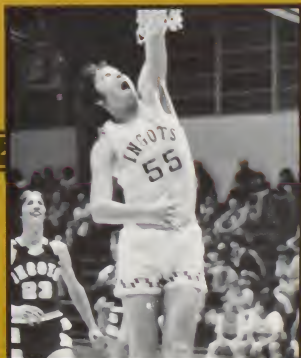

Coach Samuel predicted at the start of the season that the Ingots were destined for victory. He sure was right. A new win-loss record was established with 18 victories and four defeats. Mike Coin and Jeff Pendleton dazzled onlookers with their court wizardry as Bob Chambers, Jerry Henley, and Bart Bartolini worked the fans into a screaming, cheering mass of "Ingot Hysteria". the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of providing them with appropriate services. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the development of mental health services, the establishment of mental health trusts, and the implementation of mental health legislation.

The purpose of this paper is to review the current state of mental health services in the UK, and to discuss the challenges facing mental health services in the future. The paper will first review the current state of mental health services in the UK, and then discuss the challenges facing mental health services in the future.

The current state of mental health services in the UK is characterized by a number of challenges, including a shortage of mental health professionals, a lack of funding, and a need for more integrated services. These challenges are discussed in more detail below.

The shortage of mental health professionals is a major challenge facing mental health services in the UK. There is a significant gap between the number of mental health professionals and the number of people with a mental health problem who need services.

The lack of funding is another major challenge facing mental health services in the UK. Mental health services are often underfunded, which leads to a number of problems, including a shortage of mental health professionals and a lack of services.

The need for more integrated services is a third major challenge facing mental health services in the UK. Mental health services are often fragmented, which makes it difficult for people with a mental health problem to access the services they need.
